Introducing the topic

Good mental health is when we can:

- Cope with the challenges we face.
- Manage our feelings and express them when we need to.
- Build good relationships with ourselves and the other people in our lives.