

What Kind of a Future?

Helping young people with Down's Syndrome

What Kind of a Future? was a project helping young people with Down's Syndrome to live a good life after leaving school.

From our research we found out that it is hard for young people with Down's syndrome to be part of social activities and to find work after leaving school.

What Kind of a Future gives ideas on what to do after leaving school.

There are a few booklets that you can get from our website. My Kind of Future, What Kind of Future and Prepared for the Future.

For more information please get in touch with:

Jill Davies
jdavies@learningdisabilities.org.uk